

How to Own SpaceX Before the IPO — Public Funds That Already Hold It (per SEC filings)

SpaceX is private and files only Form D. Listed closed-end funds, interval funds and mutual funds disclose their SpaceX stakes in Form N-PORT / N-CSR — each row links to the actual filing. Ordered by SpaceX share of the fund.

Holder (ticker)	Vehicle — how a public investor gets exposure	SpaceX stake, as last disclosed in the filing	SEC filing (linked)
Destiny Tech100 (NYSE: DXYZ)	Listed closed-end fund — trades like a stock; built as a basket of top private companies, SpaceX is its anchor.	~37% of net assets via SpaceX SPVs (DXYZ SpaceX I 27.3% + MWAM VC SpaceX-II 8.3% + Celadon 1.8%) — by far its largest position.	N-CSRS/A · 3/31/2025 ↗
Baron Partners Fund (BPTRX)	Mutual fund (Baron Select Funds) — buy directly or via most brokerages.	SpaceX is the single largest holding — ~12.8% of net assets on the Class A line ($1.17B), with additional preferred-series lines.	NPORT-EX · 3/31/2026 ↗
Baron Focused Growth (BFGFX)	Mutual fund (Baron Select Funds) — same filing as Baron Partners.	Top holding — SpaceX ~14% of net assets ($386M, Class A line) plus other classes.	NPORT-EX · 3/31/2026 ↗
ARK Venture Fund (ARKVX)	Continuously-offered interval fund (ARK) — low minimum, sold through brokerages/Titan.	One of its largest positions; held directly across several SpaceX series (common + preferred).	N-CSRS · filed Apr 2026 ↗
StepStone Private Venture & Growth Fund	Interval fund (StepStone) — private-markets access for qualified investors.	~9.1% of net assets across three SpaceX lines ($117.0M + $307.1M + $162.4M).	NPORT-P · 3/31/2026 ↗
The Private Shares Fund (PIIVX)	Interval fund (Liberty Street) — late-stage private companies; available at brokerages.	SpaceX held directly — ~$190.5M fair value (cost $28.7M), a long-held position marked up sharply.	NPORT-EX · 3/31/2026 ↗
Coatue Innovative Strategies Fund	Interval fund (Coatue) — tech-focused private/public crossover.	SpaceX Class A ~1.7% of net assets ($85.1M), plus additional share-class lines.	NPORT-EX · 3/31/2026 ↗
Baron Asset / Baron Growth Funds	Mutual funds (Baron Investment Funds Trust) — separate trust from Baron Select.	Smaller SpaceX positions incl. a Series N preferred line (~$405M); not a top holding of these funds.	NPORT-EX · 12/31/2025 ↗
BlackRock Capital Allocation Term Trust (NYSE: BCAT)	Listed closed-end fund — trades like a stock; diversified multi-asset, small private sleeve.	A small SpaceX position among hundreds of holdings — exposure is minor relative to NAV.	NPORT-P ↗

Purest listed proxy: Destiny Tech100 (DXYZ) — the only exchange-traded fund whose dominant exposure is SpaceX, so it trades partly as a SpaceX tracker (often at a large premium/discount to NAV). BlackRock's BCAT is the other NYSE-listed vehicle here, but its SpaceX weight is tiny.

Diversified fund families also hold small SpaceX positions (well under ~1% of NAV each), confirmed in EDGAR full-text search but immaterial per fund: Fidelity (Contrafund, Blue Chip Growth and others), Neuberger Berman, and Franklin Strategic Series. They are not a meaningful way to bet on a SpaceX IPO.

Operating-company caveat — Alphabet (GOOGL): its $900M SpaceX investment (January 2015) is named only in 2015-era filings; current 10-Ks fold it anonymously into "non-marketable equity securities" at cost, so Alphabet gives no transparent, sized SpaceX exposure today. SpaceX's own EDGAR file (CIK 1181412) contains only Form D notices.

Method: holdings located via SEC EDGAR full-text search (efts.sec.gov) for the exact phrase "Space Exploration Technologies", then each filing line verified. Figures are as last disclosed (mostly 3/31/2026 N-PORT) and change every quarter; fund NAVs mark SpaceX to estimated fair value, not a market price. Not investment advice.
